NOTICE

To: Yoga Teacher Training School Directors

From: Mary Kanaly, Deputy Director, Division of Private Occupational Schools

Date: May 15, 2015

Re: Exemption of Yoga Teacher Training from Regulation by DPOS

This notice serves as verification and documentation that based on Senate Bill 15-186 enacted into law April 16, 2015, yoga teacher training courses, programs, and schools no longer fall under the jurisdiction of the Division of Private Occupational Schools.

Pursuant to section 12-59-104, C.R.S.,

(1) The following educational institutions and educational services are exempt from the provisions of this article:

(s) Yoga teacher training courses, programs, and schools

All Private Occupational Schools approved to offer yoga teacher trainings are hereby notified that these courses, programs and schools are exempt from DPOS oversight.

- If yoga teacher training is the only program/course your school offers, please return your Certificate of Approval to the Division of Private Occupational Schools at the address noted below. All student and educational records will remain with the school.
- For those schools who offer additional courses/programs that still fall under the jurisdiction of the Division, please note, you will no longer include yoga teacher training students in your quarterly assessment reporting.
