Information and advertising of the regional meetings has been done as follows:

- CDHE Press Release (institutions have been using this to formulate their own press releases for their regions);
- Keystone/Engaged sent invitations to institutional leaders, Club 20, Progressive 15, Action 22, alumni associations, county commissioners, networks offered from key informants, Colorado Office of Economic Development blueprint list, Colorado PTA, Colorado Education Association, Colorado Association of School Executives, Colorado Association of School Boards, Colorado Adult Education Professionals Association, workforce centers and local members, chambers of commerce, state legislators, students associations, Colorado Association of Commerce and Industry, Colorado Municipal League, Colorado Counties Incorporated, Padres Unidos, United Way Mile High, and Colorado Forum;
- CDHE notified CCE commissioners, CCE Advisors, members of the Executive Advisory Group, members of the project expert teams, Colorado Education Association, Colorado Association of School Executives, Colorado Association of School Boards, the project “interested parties”, institutional chief executive officers, institutional chief financial officers, campus communication officers, academic council members, and the data advisory group;
- Members of the Outreach Team each notified their constituencies – parents, faculty, provosts, students, business leaders, institutions, and non-profit organizations;
- The Bell Policy Center sent out a statewide announcement; and,
- We have asked each person receiving the invitation to send it out to their contacts.

While there has been some duplication of contacts, we believed that would help to emphasize the importance of the meetings.
